DEVELOP YOUR CAREER PLAN

- 1 Self exploration: analyze your talents
- 2 Career exploration: understand jobs available, the income range they pay and skills required
- 3 Identify areas that appeal to interests, skills and the labor market
- 4 Develop a tentative career path with multiple training and education options
- 5 Pursue your goals!

When planning your future, focus on what careers are needed, the skills required and the demand for those jobs.

Align your interests and abilities with your first career choice and seek the education and training needed to proceed.

Success in the new economy equals education and technical training for in-demand jobs, applied technical skills and industry driven credentials.
